

I just feel that the FCC should not override Indiana's privacy law.
I used to get as many as 8 or 10 calls a day on some days from vendors I had no intention of using. They would call at suppertime and evenings when we were trying to relax.
I received 7 calls in 1 day from a lawn care company about an hour apart when I wouldn't answer the phone.
I have been very relieved not to have those calls and don't want them again.
I would be in favor of not having any telemarketing calls at all.
Please don't vote to weaken Indiana's law.
Thank you.
